MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

L'Shanah Tova!

As the High Holy Days come to an end, I want to wish you well. I hope you have had time for reflection, renewal, and connection. Being together with you for Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur reminded me of the strength of our Ohev family. You have given our family a beautiful gift by creating a space where we belong.

You Belong at Ohev.

Those words are more than a slogan. Ohev is here for each of us. That's why we decided to call this year's Kol Nidre Appeal 'You Belong at Ohev.' Your support is essential to our operating budget and allows us to offer worship, learning, and programs throughout the year.

If you have already given, thank you. If you have not yet had the chance, I invite you to join in. Every gift, no matter the size, helps ensure that Ohev remains strong, welcoming, and vibrant for all who call this congregation home.

To support our Kol Nidre appeal, we also are going to be opening a special online pop-up shop for 'You Belong at Ohev' themed shirts, sweatshirts, and all kinds of fun swag! So please give as you are able or purchase our special merchandise to support the campaign.

Thank you and may 5786 be a year of peace, health, and joy for you and your loved ones.

B'Shalom and Shanah Tovah

April Hutcheson
President, Temple Ohev Sholom

MESSAGE FROM RABBI JASPER

Shanah Tovah,

It's hard to believe Rosh Hashanah has already come and gone. Together, with the help and presence of so many of you, we ushered in 5786 with intention and joy. And now, as the echoes of the shofar still ring in our ears, we find ourselves on the threshold of the next sacred moments in our calendar: Yom Kippur, Sukkot, and Simchat Torah.

At first glance, these holidays may seem unrelated. Yom Kippur is solemn and introspective, a day of atonement and return. Sukkot is joyful and earthy, celebrating the harvest and the impermanence of life. Simchat Torah bursts with celebration as we dance with our scrolls, closing one cycle of Torah and immediately beginning another.

But beneath their differences lies a shared spiritual thread. Each of them invites us to begin again.

On Yom Kippur, we return to our truest selves. We ask forgiveness, seek healing, and commit to change. As the gates begin to close at Ne'ilah, we are offered a rare and sacred gift: a clean slate. In the words of the prophet Isaiah, "Though your sins be like scarlet, they shall be as white as snow" (Isaiah 1:18). The power of Yom Kippur lies not only in confession, but in transformation. It is the ultimate spiritual reset.

Sukkot, which follows just days later, grounds that spiritual work in the physical world. We move from the sanctuary to the sukkah. We shake the lulav and etrog, symbols of unity and diversity, and invite guests to dwell with us. The Talmud teaches that hachnasat orchim, welcoming guests, is even greater than greeting the Divine Presence (Shabbat 127a). On Sukkot, we bring our renewed selves into a fragile space open to the sky. We embrace impermanence while laying the foundations for lasting relationships and the sacred act of hospitality.

And then comes Simchat Torah, we watch our youngest ones begin their Jewish education with Consecration. This is at the same time that we close the final verses of Deuteronomy and immediately open to the first words of Genesis: "In the beginning..." or Bereshit. As Rabbi Ben Bag-Bag said of Torah, "Turn it and turn it again, for everything is in it" (Pirkei Avot 5:22). Simchat Torah reminds us that the story never ends. Each ending is also a beginning. Each year, we step once more into the sacred story and bring all our experience, our growth, and our questions with us.

In this month of October, we live fully in what I like to call the season of starting over. The High Holy Days gave us the intention. These next festivals give us the tools to act and to try again.

No one knows what this year will bring. But our tradition promises us that beginning again is always possible. Whether in prayer, in relationship, or in self-growth, Judaism teaches that we are never stuck. We can always return. Teshuvah is not just something we do once a year. It is a daily practice.

May the rhythm of these sacred days remind us that we are co-creators with God in shaping our lives. May we build the habits, connections, and compassion that help us become who we are meant to be.

Wishing you a sweet and meaningful continuation of the High Holiday season.

Shanah Tovah and G'mar Chatimah Tovah.
May we start over, inscribed in the Book of Life.

Warmly,
Rabbi Jasper

We send our prayers and healing energy to members of our Temple Ohev Sholom family and loved ones of members who have been hospitalized or injured in recent weeks or who are facing or have had health challenges. Prayers will be offered during Shabbat services when the Mi Shebeirach blessing is said.

Please contact the Temple Office if you would like to add the name of someone you love to the Temple Ohev Sholom healing prayer list, to the list of family members who have died or if there is a celebration or milestone in your life which you want to share with the Temple Ohev Sholom family. Additionally, please let the Temple Office know when you are ready to have names removed from the healing list. (Names may be removed after a few weeks if we don't receive an update.)

MESSAGE FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Hello Temple Ohev Sholom Family,

There is no "I" in team.

I trust that everyone had a reflective and enriching High Holiday season, leaving you feeling nourished, fulfilled, and more connected to our vibrant temple community.

It was a true joy to witness the spirit and dedication of our Rabbinic and Leadership team. I want to take a moment to express my deep gratitude to all those who contributed to the preparation for the High Holidays.

The team: A heartfelt thank you to our staff and volunteers for their incredible efforts.

Our Staff: We have the best staff around, including Rabbi Jasper, Amanda, Jon, Conrad, Lisette, Leah, Scott, and all our Religious School teachers who have worked hard to provide important information to the congregation and prepare us for the High Holidays. Our Volunteers: A heartfelt thank you to our Temple Board of Trustees, Sarah Kawasaki (our wonderful soloist), our musicians, everyone who had bema honors, our Ritual Committee, our Facilities Committee, and our Security team. I also appreciate everyone who helped to deep-clean the Sanctuary, assisted with our new Tot Spot Room, stuffed envelopes, baked desserts for the Oneg, helped in the kitchen, and contributed in countless other ways. We are so fortunate at Temple Ohev Sholom to have a dedicated Team that invests time and effort into making our temple a vibrant place. Thank you so much!

We have many exciting events coming up soon, including Sukkot celebrations the week of Oct. 5th, Simchat Torah and Consecration services on Friday, October 17th. Don't miss the Installation of Rabbi Jasper on Friday, November 21st, and our Trivia Night on Sunday, November 23rd. Additionally, we will celebrate Hanukkah on Friday, December 19th. All information can be found in the Newsletter, our Temple Ohev Sholom website and in our Sholom-O-Grams.

These are just a few of the events we have planned, and we hope they will help deepen your connection to Temple Ohev Sholom. We encourage you to get involved and join us for all the fun! It's going to be an incredible fall season, and I look forward to sharing it with all of you!

Warmly,

Reyna Jose
Executive Director

BOOK CLUB

Sixteen people reunited for our Temple's book discussion group in the library on Sunday, September 21. The discourse regarding the novel Long Island Compromise by Taffy Brodesser-Akner met with lots of varying opinions regarding a controversial read. However, participants agreed that even if they had not liked the book while reading it, they were pleased they attended to share, learn and challenge each other. Our next selection on October 19 at 11:30 a.m. is Melting Point: Family Memory The Search for a Promised Land by Rachel Cockerell. Our talented leader is member Bernice Hauseman (bhausman210@gmail.com) if you have any questions. Please consider reading and joining the Ohav Sholom book group.

MELTING POINT

FAMILY, MEMORY, AND THE SEARCH FOR A PROMISED LAND

RACHEL COCKERELL

On June 7, 1907, a ship packed with Russian Jews set sail for a promised land: not Jerusalem or New York, as many on board had dreamed, but Texas. This was the beginning of the Galveston Plan, a forgotten episode in US history . . . In Melting Point, Cockerell weaves together diaries, letters, newspaper articles, and interviews in a highly inventive style. Constructed entirely of primary sources, with one flowing into the next, the book lets long-dead voices reanimate, jostle for space, and converge to tell their stories with a novelistic vividness and detail."

Next Month we'll discuss Fear No Pharaoh: American Jews, the Civil War, and the Fight to End Slavery by Richard Kreitner (2025) on Nov 16th

'A strikingly original, brilliantly crafted, vividly drawn work of history and memoir'

PAUL CARUANA GALIZIA

"Unforgettable . . . Nonfiction will be different as a result."

—Jonathan Freedland

'Meticulously researched, elegantly constructed, unforgettable'

JONATHAN FREEDLAND

'An exceptionally vivid and compelling family history'
